Design Terminal is a public non-profit organisation, financed by market revenues and public subsidies. Under a public service contract our organisation receives funding from the state, which is documented in annual financial and project-based reports.

Under its public service delegation contract, Design Terminal is responsible for business and cultural talent development, entrepreneurial ecosystem development and the domestic implementation of international good practice. Our services are selection-based and are always free of charge for participants.

The management of Design Terminal Nonprofit Kft. is audited by BDO Hungary, a globally recognized international auditing firm.
